

Holocaust Remembrance Day to be commemorated Sunday in Rockland

By Suzan Clarke
snc Clarke@lohud.com • April 15, 2009

The guest speaker at Sunday's countywide Holocaust Remembrance Day commemoration will focus on the danger of Holocaust denial.

Rabbi Israel Singer, professor of political science and a vice president of Touro College, and a noted Jewish activist, also will discuss rising anti-Semitism during the event that commemorates the 65th annual Yom HaShoah.

Yom HaShoah is the day established in 1951 by the Israeli Knesset to commemorate the liberation of Holocaust survivors and remember the Jews who died in Nazi death camps.

Sunday's event will be 7:30 p.m. in the Cultural Arts Center at Rockland Community College, 145 College Road, Ramapo.

Read more about this story tomorrow in The Journal News.